

Sarah Alexandra van Blydenstein

Sarah Alexandra van Blydenstein (preferred name Alex) is an adult pulmonologist from Johannesburg, South Africa. She works in the adult pulmonology division at Chris Hani Baragwanath Academic Hospital. Alex is pursuing a PhD investigating COVID-19 and endothelialitis, which includes a safety study of a potential salvage therapy. She is a member of the SATS council, and Head of the MMed

Committee, University of the Witwatersrand. Her interests include lung cancer, sarcoidosis, preventive therapy and developing research. Alex enjoys cooking, reading (she recommends recent read Not Child's Play) and playing the piano. When she is not working, she hangs out with her awesome kid and explores the world from the vantage point of a 2-year-old. She recommends this!